BE LIKE MIKE

I remember that Gatorade commercial like it was yesterday: "Sometimes I dream - that he is me - You've got to see - that's how I dream to be - I dream I move - I dream I groove like Mike." Michael Jordan was the role model every kid craved, but sadly, the need for a role model or mentor doesn't stop when you become an adult! But what makes a good mentor? What characteristics should I be looking for in a role model? How do I choose one? How can I pay it forward and be a role model for someone else? In this session we will identify the spiritual traits of Barnabas, "the son of encouragement," and apply these traits to your own life so that you can move and groove now and for eternity!
